

Prinergy Evo processes

A process is a group of tasks used to make input files ready for output. For example, a refine to PDF process converts input files to PDF. You can monitor the status of Prinergy Evo processes on the client computer in the Process Viewer.