

Viewing information about a file

You can view information about the file that is displayed in Smart Review, including the image dimensions.

1. To expand the Info panel and view information about the file, on the right pane, click Info.

Information about the currently displayed page appears, such as the image dimensions, trim lines, bleed lines, size of the media box and art box, and resolution (of raster images). Measurements appear in the unit of measure that is set in your Smart Review preferences.

When you view two files at the same time (in Reader Spread or Compare mode), information appears about both pages.

2. To close the Info panel, click Info again.
