

The submission channel can't find its attached process template

If you receive a message that the submission channel cannot find its attached process template when you submit an input file to a Prinergy Evo submission channel, the process template may have been deleted and then later recreated with the same name.

To resolve this issue, add the process template to the submission channel again.