

measurement data

Data collected from a measurement device that describes the color response of a device with known operating conditions.