

density

A measurement of the ability of light to be absorbed by an ink and paper combination. A darker tone absorbs more light and has a higher density than a lighter tone.