

output

The layout and imaging information or data that is generated when a job is printed. (This word is also used as a verb.)