source file

A document in its originating software file format, before it is converted to a suitable format that can be added to a Preps job