unwanted color

The process color having the lowest value of the three in any pixel. It is also known as the complementary or tertiary color. For example, cyan is the unwanted color of a red made up of 5 percent cyan, 90 percent magenta, and 80 percent yellow.