virtual printer

A printer that contains preset workflows that are automatically applied to all print jobs processed with that virtual printer.