output tone curve

A graph showing the relationship of original input densities and corresponding dot percentages on film. Excurve is an example.