

transparent area

An area that contains at least one transparent separation, through which a picture can be assigned.