step and repeat

The procedure of copying the same image by stepping it in position both horizontally and vertically according to a predetermined layout.