

color control element

A digital file that is used to control color reproduction in a prepress workflow system. Color control elements include plate calibration curves, print calibration curves, ICC device profiles and ICC DeviceLink profiles.