

Discontinuous PCO simulation DeviceLink generation

If the simulation target is discontinuous and you select a ColorFlow software-generated simulation DeviceLink method, ColorFlow software calculates a DeviceLink that accurately simulates the discontinuous target color response on any PCO device condition. The resulting DeviceLink is called a discontinuous DeviceLink.