Redefining device curves

After you have defined a device curve for a device, you can redefine to use a different curve. For pooled devices, if you redefine a device curve for one device, the device curves of other devices won't get updated. However, if you can manually update the device curve in the pool to use the redefined device curve.

1. In a device condition, click the Curves icon next to the device.
2. Click Redefine.
3. Select the desired device curve.
4. Click OK.
