black strength

A value that specifies the relative amount of black ink used to simulate colors through the different replacement zones.