Creating Custom Media Configurations in KPS MPI Software

You require a media configuration for every combination of printer, ink, resolution, and media that you are using. In some situations, you will need a custom media configuration:

- When you are using a third-party media
- When you want to use Kodak media at a custom resolution

Use this document as a guide through the custom configuration process: