

Configurable bleed path settings

You can edit bleed path settings in Preferences or the job properties > Die Attributes pane to specify not only the size of the bleed margins, but, in cases where Pandora does not bleed correctly on the first attempt, you can use the settings to modify parameters, and have the software generate bleeds again.