sheet selection

The process of choosing printed sheets from a print run that are considered to best represent the color response of a print condition.