License management

To use the Business Link software, you require a valid Prinergy license that includes a Business Link license.
Note: If you must run your Business Link software on another computer that is not the Prinergy primary server, contact a Kodak support representative.

What you need to know about Business Link licensing:

- In Business Link 8.0 and later the licensing is integrated into Prinergy software as a licensed option. There is no longer a dongle and license key for Business Link software.
- When installed on the same server as the Prinergy server software, the license is automatically retrieved from the license for Prinergy 8.0 or later.
- In systems where Business Link software is installed on a server that is not the Prinergy primary server, Business Link will, after it is configured, retrieve its license from the licensed options on the Prinergy primary server.
