

About the installer

The Prinerger client software is delivered via an installer that installs and updates Workshop on the client computers. The installer concurrently installs, updates, and configures the client software, which makes updates more reliable and supportable.

If you want to install specific software components at a later time, run the installer again, and select all of the software components that you want to install (including software components that you have already installed). The installer will uninstall everything that was installed before, and then install your new feature set.

The installers resides on the Prinerger server. New client software versions are delivered with each server update.
