

Changing the name of the Araxi service account

You can change the name of the user account that the Araxi service uses to access Prinerger servers.

If the Prinerger system includes any non-Windows servers, delete the Araxi service user account on each server and create the user account with the new name.

- Creating the Araxi service account in a Windows domain
- Creating an Araxi service account on the Windows server
- Setting logon rights for the Prinerger Araxi and backup service accounts