

About copying jobs

You can copy jobs between shares on a Prinergy server or copy a job to another server.

Use the Copy Job action to create new jobs and pre-jobs on a Prinergy server. This action operates the same way as the Copy Job menu item in Workshop.

You can also use the Copy Job action to copy a job to another server, but the action does not delete the job from the original server.

Tip: If you want to copy a job to another server and then delete the original job, use the Move Job To Server action instead.

Note: You cannot bring a copy of a job in from another server using RBA. Consider using the Move Job From Server action instead, but remember that the original job will be deleted.
