

Selecting one or all objects with the same properties

1. To select one or all objects with the same properties:
 - In the Mac OS, press Control, and click an object in the Acrobat window
 - In Windows, right-click an object in the Acrobat window

2. In the selection menu, click one of the following menu items:

- Select object
- Select all objects of the same type
- Select all objects of the same color

Or, select from:

- Select all objects of type
- Select all objects using Screen
- Select all objects using Calibration Curve

To clear the selection list and return the page to the default screening, click Deselect all.

A selected item shows highlighted with the color you specified in the Adobe Acrobat Preferences menu.

3. To add more items:
 - In the Mac OS, press Control+Shift+click to display the selection menu, and then select a menu item.
 - In Windows, press Shift+right-click to display the selection menu, and then select a menu item.

This adds to the already-accumulated selection list in the Properties Editor dialog box.

4. To remove a selected item from the selection list using the selection menu, display the menu again and Shift+click on a menu item to clear that selection from the Properties Editor list.
