

Using the scroll bars to move the image

The location of the scroll button on the scroll bar in the main window tells you where the displayed area is in the image. For example, if the scroll button is located halfway down the scroll bar, you are viewing an area halfway down the image.

In the main window:

- Use the scroll bar at the right side of the window to move the image up or down.
- Use the scroll bar at the bottom of the window to move the image left or right.
