

Preparing a job assembly

You typically start planning a new product assembly when you receive the job ticket from an estimator or the MIS.

Note: Access to the Assembly view and the Products list is license-dependent. This also applies to the corresponding ability to work with multiple products, parts, and binding styles in a job.