

Bearer Bars settings

Use bearer bars marks to add two rectangular marks on the sides of your press sheets. These marks extend along the entire length of the press sheet; one bar is placed on the left side of the press sheet, and the other is placed on the right side. Bearer bars marks are of a single tone, and are placed on every plate in the job. Typically, they are used for packaging jobs, but they can be used as ink take-off bars for all job types. You can adjust the width of these marks.

Note: The two bars behave as a unit, but you can select each bar individually. Use ALT-opt to select and update an individual bar.

Width

Type a length for the width of the bearer bars mark.

Note: Set the default width on the Marks tab in the Preferences dialog box.
