

_color dfference metric

Color Difference Metric is used to compute the difference between two colors. Among the selections, dE2000 gives the best visible indication of color difference.