

Your role as the student

You will be an effective student if you follow these guidelines:

- If learning on-site, plan how you will balance the learning session with your regular work responsibilities.
- Read introductory information first.
- Prioritize what you want to learn.
- Complete all appropriate activities.
- Complete all appropriate review activities.
- Assemble your own sample job files..
- Think about workflow issues specific to your site's requirements, and discuss these with the service representative during on-site support.

We hope that you find the RBA training package useful, and we encourage you to provide any feedback by sending an e-mail message to US&C-GCG-RBA-Feedback@kodak.com. Your comments will help us improve the quality of this material.
