

blueline proof

A hard-copy proof produced by exposing film of multiple separations (CMYK and spot colors) belonging to a single layout onto a single piece of media by using a low-density blue ink. A blueline proof shows you whether the pages are imposed accurately and the marks and layouts are correct.