

furniture

Identification marks on a plate or film that are usually added by a system after files are RIPed—for example, registration marks, gray bars, vision bender tests, and separation colors.