Configuring Mac computer preferences

Before configuring your Mac preferences, ensure that you are logged in to the Mac computer with the user account that will normally be used for proofing color.

Note: If the lock at the bottom of the Energy Saver window is closed, click the lock and then enter the administrator user name and password to unlock the account.